

SAGES Conference 2019 Abstract

National Geodetic Survey's Educational Offerings

Erika Little

NOAA's National Geodetic Survey

NOAA's National Geodetic Survey has various educational and outreach materials available. This presentation would cover existing material, especially as it relates to the New Datums coming in 2022, and statistics on how they are currently being used by academia. It will recap relevant information discussed during the Education and Training session of the NGS Geospatial Summit this May. Importantly, it will also look to the future and hopefully garner input from the attendees on ideas for additional offerings and possible collaborations.